DAILY BIBLE READING GUIDE

Before Joshua led the Israelites into the Promised Land, God gave him clear instructions about the standards for living, which they were to follow. “This Book of the Law shall not depart from your mouth, but you shall meditate on it day and night, so that you may be careful to do according to all that is written in it. For then you will make your way prosperous, and then you will have good success” (Joshua 1:8 ESV)

God’s prescription for successful daily living has not changed since then. Meditating on God’s Word and living by His standards are still the keys to pleasing God and living an abundant life. And when we follow the light of God’s Word, He promises to speak to our hearts. Studying and obeying His Word prepares us to hear His voice.

Please join me and everyone at CBN as we make coming year a special year of seeking God’s guidance and wisdom. I pray that this devotional guide is a blessing to you and deepens your faith and understanding of God’s Word.

HOW TO USE THE DAILY BIBLE DEVOTIONAL

“Standards to Live By” presents 12 attitudes and behaviors of godliness exemplified by Jesus Christ. The introductory paragraph gives an overview of the standard to be discussed that month and how it applies to your duty as Christians to live Christ-like lives.

Each week focuses on a theme related to the standard for the month. Questions for meditation lead you to personally apply the insight you gain from the weekly devotion.

Thank you for your ongoing support of CBN as we lift up the standard of Jesus Christ and share His message of salvation around the world.

FAITH

Faith is the title deed to the promises of God. By faith, we look beyond the realities of this world: we take ownership of our place in God's kingdom and the promises in God's Word. One day, the rewards for faithfully serving God will be as real as a house, a car, or any other earthly possession.

“Faith sees the invisible, believes the unbelievable, and receives the impossible.”

Corrie ten Boom

VISION

As Christians, we are endowed with a new spiritual nature that enables us to see the world as God sees it—dark, desperate, and enslaved to sin. When Jesus came into our lives, He opened our eyes to the truth of God’s Word and illuminated the path to pleasing God. By His Spirit, God focuses us on the dire needs of those around us and leads us to do exploits for His kingdom. With God’s vision in our hearts and a Bible in our hands, we can turn the world away from darkness and death and toward light and life.

“

Give us clear vision that we may know where to stand and what to stand for, because unless we stand for something, we shall fall for anything.”

Peter Marshall

COURAGE

Religious martyrs, military heroes, political prisoners---these are some of the people who come to mind when we think about courage. But courage is a much more common quality than we suspect. It is there in each of us, waiting for God to ignite it for His purposes. Although we may not face a lions den, an invading army or an inhuman gulag, life is full of trials that test our faith in God. Our challenge as Christians is to walk through each valley in life knowing that we are never alone. Our infinite God Promises to accompany us with every step as He sets our hearts ablaze with boldness.

“
Courage is not simply one of the virtues but
the form of every
virtue at the testing
point, which means at
the point of highest reality.”

C.S. Lewis

PATIENCE

Fast food, expressways, lightning-fast computers---Americans like speed and we don't like to wait. Unfortunately, our never-ending race against the clock exhausts our capacity for patience. Consequently, the problems of life that can't be easily and rapidly solved leave us frustrated and discouraged. Patience is a vital virtue of the Christian faith that liberates us from the tyranny of time, empowers us to wait on God's solutions to our problems, and helps us look at life from an eternal perspective. More important, patience reflects the infinite grace of God, who waits patiently for every wandering child to come home.

“
 Patience is the companion of wisdom ”
 Saint Augustine of

COMPASSION

Compassion is the heart and hands of Christianity. “For God so loved the world that He gave His only Son” captures the essential Gospel message: Compassionate sacrifice inspired by love. Compassion is more than just a feeling; it is caring enough to act. Just as God reached out with love, mercy, and forgiveness, so we too open our hearts, extending a touch of heavenly compassion.

POWER

Absolute power is safe only in God's hands because only He can be trusted to use it for good. Yet God has chosen to bestow extraordinary power on His people as a means to proclaim and build His kingdom. Our duty as Christian is to understand that power and allow it to flow through us in a way that demonstrates God's nature and His love. Whether comforting a grieving friend in private or taking a public stand against immorality, God empowers us to glorify Him and make the world take notice of His effect on our lives. The abundant Christian life is a beacon that attracts others to the Source of ultimate, life-changing power.

“

Nearly all men can stand adversity, but if you want to rest a man's character, give him power.”

Abraham Lincoln

COMMITMENT

Must I give my life to serve as a missionary in the jungles of South America as did Jim Elliot? Perhaps. For most, however, God's plan points toward more modest, but no less important, goals. God fills each of our lives with a special combination of talents, resources and opportunities. We need only to look around us for those God wants to touch through us.

“
He is no fool who gives what he cannot keep to gain what he cannot lose.”

AUTHORITY

Early in life we learned the importance of knowing who is in charge. Our parents and teachers were our first authority figures. They were replaced by an employer, a commanding officer, the U.S government, or some other individual or institution with the power to direct us. As Christians, we acknowledge Jesus as our Master and King. On the other hand, we are often required to wield authority---in the home, on the job, and in our Christian walk. As ambassadors for God's kingdom, we have been endowed with the authority to manage His creation, invest His resources, and subdue spiritual forces in His name.

“

Jesus said that the great ones in this world exercise authority but that in His kingdom it is not so; no one exercises authority over another because in His kingdom the king is servant of all. ”

Oswald Chambers

FREEDOM

There is great confusion today about what it means to be free. Some seem to think freedom is the liberty to do whatever they want. Unfortunately, that kind of freedom usually infringes on someone else's rights and inevitably leads to conflict. True freedom is the power to do what ought to be done, especially when there is an overwhelming impulse to do otherwise. Christianity presents this paradox: to be free we must give up control of our lives to the indwelling Spirit of God. Thus the person who submits to God's will is truly free, even if he is in prison; the person who scorns God's will is a prisoner, even if he walks free.

“
Without free will, man would not be created 'in the image of God.' With it, he has the power to defy God's wishes and to bring misery on himself and others.”

C.S. Lewis

HUMILITY

No garment is more fitting for a Christian than that of humility. While some mistake meekness for weakness, most people admire humility in others because it conveys a quiet strength of character that doesn't need applause from the world. In an age when many "old-fashioned" values have gone out of style, modesty, respect for others, and deference to God's authority are still widely accepted standards of excellence. A person who looks up to God rarely looks down on people.

“

Lord, where we are wrong make us willing to change, and where we are right make us easy to live with.”

Peter Marshall

SERVICE

God has privileged us with participating in His work of redeeming and blessing the human race. By serving God, we become His co-laborers in bringing the light of His truth and the glory of His love to people living in darkness and hopelessness. We are His voice, inviting prodigal sons and daughters to come home. We are His hands, aiding the sick and poor with loving care. If we are willing to do what we can, God will do what we cannot. The finest words we'll ever hear will echo in the halls of heaven: "Well done, good and faithful servant."

“
Before the judgment seat of Christ, my service will not be judged by how much
I have done but by
how much of me
there is in it.”

GREATNESS

The world assigns greatness based on wealth, fame and power. Greatness in God's kingdom is another story. Each of the standards we have examined plays a part in godly greatness. Dare to be great according to God's standards and take your place at God's table ahead of billionaires, heroes and kings.

“

We need to dare to live the Beatitudes, to be trusting, teachable and humble, to discover perhaps for the first time in history how a man who is a servant can lead.”

Pat Robertson

IS JESUS YOUR STANDARD?

As we have discovered in this study, God has established many standards to live by. But there is one standard that rises above the others.

JESUS: GOD'S HOLY STANDARD

Jesus said, "I am the way, the truth, and the life. No one comes to the Father except through Me"(John 14:6). Jesus is the final standard for life

In fact, apart from Jesus, we are each condemned in our sin (Romans 3:23). But through Christ's death on the cross, we have been given a way to new life and right standing with God.

“
For God so loved the world
that He gave His only begotten Son...”

John 3:16

RESTORED RELATIONSHIP TO GOD

When you make Christ your Lord and Savior, God miraculously transforms you into His son or daughter. Will you come to Him today? Pray this prayer: "Jesus, I've tried to do things my way, but I've always fallen short. Today, I confess You as Lord and believe in my heart that You died for my sins. Thank You for saving me."

If you prayed this prayer in faith, it's important that you tell others about your new life in Christ. You can start by calling CBN's Prayer center at 800-700-7000. We'll send you a copy of our "A New Day" booklet to help you get started in your relationship with God.
